International Week at Western is held annually in November as a campus-wide celebration of all things international. The purpose of the week is to celebrate Western's international community, diversity and international collaborations, learn about international opportunities for students, staff, faculty, and alumni both at home and abroad, and engage the London and campus communities in global learning and intercultural sharing.

This year, Western International is looking to engage with even more community groups around London and connect students through a campus-wide festival of diversity and international collaboration, thereby getting more students involved in celebrating what we think to be one of the most important aspects of our campus and community.

The International Week Opening Ceremonies happening on Monday, November 13th from 12:00pm – 2:00pm, will be held all across campus, notably at busy locations across the Western University Campus. Events will launch the week off in an exciting way, giving students a preview of what the rest of the week will be like!

If you are unable to participate in the Opening Ceremonies, there are other potential opportunities for you to be involved in International Week, including the Cultural Showcase in the evening of Thursday, November 16th. This event is intended to expose our students to the unique settings, and cultures represented at Western and in the London community.
